Welcome Message

HMRC is undergoing one of the most significant organisational transformations in Europe. We are striving to become a smaller, digital customer-centric and more professional organisation, based in fewer locations, while serving 50 million individual customers and more than five million businesses. And we are under significant public scrutiny: it seems that everyone is interested in tax these days.

We need to rapidly transform how, where and when we work: using data to improve compliance; shifting from traditional telephone and post services to digital online services that our customers want to use, available 24 hours a day, seven days a week; and consolidating into 13 modern Regional Centres and four Specialist Sites, with people provided with the IT and skills they need as HMRC becomes one of the most digitally-advanced tax administrations in the world. In so many areas we are leading a technology revolution across government, such as in:

- The launch of the Personal and Business Tax Accounts, with more than 13m registered users already, where individual taxpayers can see a single view of their tax affairs and where business taxpayers will be able to see all aspects of their tax relationship by 2020. The implementation of Making Tax Digital is one of the most complex technological projects ever undertaken by government consolidating hundreds of tax applications, simplifying some, digesting all and providing easy access through the Tax Account.
- Big data - we're bringing all of our data into a single Enterprise Data Hub, built mainly with open source tooling, and ingesting third party data, so we can gain new insights into areas of risk and increasingly tailor digital services to customers.
- Customer contact - we can better manage peaks in contact through our virtual contact centre, which we believe is now the largest on the planet. It's enabling us to bring together scanned mail, telephony and new ways of helping customers' online, such as webchat and virtual assistants, ensuring customers get the right help when they need it.
- Robotic automation - we currently have more than 30 different robotics projects in flight, speeding up processes so we save time for our customers and operate more efficiently. We see ourselves as government leaders in automation software.

This role covers one of the two largest business areas in HMRC, which itself is one of the largest government departments. As such, the responsibility for the successful operational delivery will be key, as will your strong leadership and engagement of so many of our people. Not only that, but as a member of the Executive Committee, you will be an integral part of the senior leadership team for a Department of over 61,000 people, responsible for bringing in around £536.8bn in annual revenue.

Jon Thompson

Chief Executive, HMRC

Background to HM Revenue & Customs

HM Revenue & Customs (HMRC) is one of the largest government departments and one of the UK's biggest organisations. Almost every individual and business in the UK is a direct customer of HMRC. HMRC collect around £540 billion a year in revenue from 50 million individual customers and 5 million businesses across the UK.

HMRC are an impartial and increasingly effective and efficient tax and payments authority, with a vital purpose: to collect the money that pays for the UK's public services and help families and individuals with targeted financial support.

As part of HMRC's continued drive to increase tax compliance to narrow the £36 billion tax gap, HMRC have embarked on a major transformational programme to redirect more of HMRC's people and resources to compliance activities, modernising systems and re-engineering processes to become more customer-orientated. HMRC are bringing 61,000 staff together from 170 to 13 modern offices across the country.

HMRC's single departmental plan describes HM Revenue and Customs' (HMRC) priority objectives for 2015- 2020: Single Departmental Plan 2015 to 2020

Customer Compliance Group

Customer Compliance ensures that HMRC successfully collects the full and correct amount of money due from UK taxpayers, investigates offences against the tax system and takes action to identify and mitigate potential threats.

The Customer Compliance Group brings all our compliance customer segment directorates into one group: large business, wealthy and mid-sized businesses, small businesses and individuals.

Transformation in HM Revenue & Customs – ‘Building our future’

In order to meet its strategic objectives – to maximise revenues due and bear down on avoidance and evasion; transform tax and payments for our customers; and design and deliver a professional, efficient and engaged organisation – HMRC has embarked on a major transformation programme, changing the way it does things to make it easier for compliant customers and harder for non-compliant customers. These reforms will deliver the biggest transformation of the tax system in a generation, making it more effective, efficient and easier for our customers. All of this is to be delivered at lower costs, while meeting revenue and customer service targets. The ‘Building our Future’ programme sets out how the organisation will transform over the coming years and what HMRC will be like in 2020 and beyond.

Some of the areas that are changing are described below.

Digital transformation

HMRC is one of the leaders of government’s digital journey and has invested £1.3 billion to transform into one of the most digitally advanced tax administrations in the world (“digital by default”) - fundamentally transforming the way people and businesses are able to manage their tax affairs, offering them first-class online, real-time services accessible anytime, anywhere – just as with banking and shopping.

People transformation

HMRC’s people are at the heart of the transformation as HMRC moves towards its vision for 2020. It will mean new ways of working for its people - with fewer people, working in more highly skilled roles, in fewer locations, working across business lines to bring services together for customers in one place.

Estates transformation

HMRC is rationalising its current estates footprint - moving from an organisation with over 170 offices IN 2015 to 13 new Regional Centres and four Specialist Sites by 2021. This means that teams will be able to work closer together in a smaller number of large, modern, adaptable offices and ensure that HRMC people will have more opportunities to build their careers and skills. HMRC is also updating its IT and infrastructure to ensure the best working environment possible.

The Role

The Director General, Customer Compliance (DG, CC) is responsible for the full range of delivery components within HMRC's enforcement and compliance strategy - this includes responsibility for supporting those who simply need help in paying their tax, through to pursuing those who have the intention of evading it using the full extent of the law. The post holder will be a key influencer in shaping HMRC's joined-up strategy on data & risk analysis sharing, operational responses on key strategic compliance, as well as security and law enforcement challenges. S/he is expected to significantly contribute to reducing the tax gap, bringing in close to £25bn of revenue from HMRC's compliance activities in 2016/2017.

It is a substantial and challenging leadership role, which will support the work of over 25,000 staff that makes up the Customer Compliance population. This number is set to continue increasing in the coming years, as a result of HMRC's reinvestment programme over the current spending period and the increasing priority of this work.

Reporting directly to the Chief Executive, the Director General, Customer Compliance is responsible for implementing the Department's compliance strategies and delivering the associated objectives, including the detection and prevention of criminal attacks on HMRC. The incumbent will be responsible for Counter-Avoidance, Risk & Intelligence Service, Fraud Investigation Service, Individuals and Small Business Compliance, Wealthy and Mid-sized Business Compliance and Large Business.

As a full member of HMRC Executive Committee, the post holder will also have a collective and corporate responsibility on all departmental business issues determined and decided upon by the HMRC Executive Committee.

The Director General, Customer Compliance will be responsible for managing a team of up to nine direct reports and will have regular interaction with the Chief Executive, the Executive Committee team and the individual members, the Customer Compliance Leadership team, Directors General and senior leaders within other Government departments – in particular, the Home Office (including UK Borders Agency and Law Enforcement Agencies), HM Treasury groups representing customers and taxpayers, as well as Ministers. Performance in this role will come under the formal scrutiny of various Parliamentary Committees, as well as general public scrutiny from the media, MPs, employers and other interested parties.

Accountabilities and Responsibilities

- Oversee the enforcement and compliance elements of the HMRC strategy, embedding tailored customer compliance approaches for each major customer segment in a credible and transparent way;
- Develop and maintain a coherent HMRC-wide enforcement and compliance strategy, including the detection and prevention of criminal attacks on HMRC;
- Act as a Tax Commissioner for HMRC appointed by the Queen, handling individual taxpayers' affairs impartially ensuring ministers have no involvement in taxpayers' cases;
- Deter non-compliant activity - both at the border and through tax evasion - and collaborate closely with colleagues across HMRC and external agencies to achieve these aims;

- Lead the 25,000 people strong Customer Compliance Group across 6 operational directorates and 3 support functions to deliver the strategy and business plans, providing strategic direction on resourcing and risk, refining work flows in line with UK and HMRC's digital future, and improving professionalism within Customer Compliance;
- Ensure Customer Compliance successfully collects the full and correct amount of money due from UK taxpayers, investigating offences against the tax system and taking action to identify and mitigate against potential threats;
- Effectively manage a budget exceeding £1,000m in 2016/2017, planning and delivering large-scale transformation and building plans for future spending reviews;
- Develop deeper customer in-sight and embed analytics into product and process design, as well as departmental strategies where appropriate;
- Encourage transparency and disclosure, working across HMRC to resolve issues;
- deliver significant performance improvements within own area and across HMRC;
- develop and maintain a coherent HMRC wide approach to repayments; and
- provide agreed outputs of Customer Compliance services across HMRC.

As a member of the Executive Committee, the DG, CC will:

- Positively demonstrate leadership behaviours;
- Deliver agreed performance targets within budget;
- Effectively engage and lead people to ensure they are clear on HMRC's strategies and are better connected to HMRC as an employer;
- Position HMRC in the cross-government reform agenda.

Candidate Profile

The ideal candidate will be able to demonstrate throughout the recruitment process, the following essential criteria:

- An experienced enforcement or compliance professional with a track record of leading and inspiring a complex and highly distributed organisation
- A strong working knowledge of a wide range of business sectors, with the ability to meet challenging objectives and achieve superior results by successfully delivering through others
- A strategic leader with the gravitas and credibility to influence a wide range of stakeholders, including Ministers
- Experience of successfully leading an organisation through transformational culture change
- An understanding of the challenges of working in the public service, serving the Government and Parliament;
- The resilience to successfully manage high profile public and media scrutiny.

As the future leader of one of the UK's largest law enforcement agencies, experience within a law enforcement agency, or financial organisation would be beneficial.

Although familiarity of tax environments would be an advantage, it is more important that candidates possess the broader skills to deliver successful business outcomes and transformations on a large scale. Candidates without a tax background will have to demonstrate the ability to quickly grasp the essential principles of running a large compliance delivery unit, that includes a large number of tax professionals, where integrity and the smooth running of the overall tax system is vital.

Salary

The salary for this post is set within the Senior Civil Service (SCS) Payband 3 range.

Being mindful of the scrutiny on public sector pay, external candidates should expect their salary on appointment to be up to £142,500 per annum, possibly more for an exceptional candidate subject to approval.

Existing Civil Servants will be appointed in line with the normal Civil Service pay rules.

Application Instructions

Russell Reynolds Associates has been appointed to advise HMRC on this recruitment. Short-listing of candidates will involve the assessment of information provided in application documentation.

The closing date for applications is Monday 15 May 2017.

Please send applications:

By email (preferred): Responses@RussellReynolds.com

Or, by post:
Russell Reynolds Associates
c/o Elinor Parry
1704-019L
Almack House, 28 King Street
London SW1Y 6QW

All applications must include the following:

- The reference number 1704-019L and role title in the subject line.
- A current CV with educational and professional qualifications and full employment history, giving details where applicable of budgets and numbers of people managed, relevant achievements in recent posts, together with reasons for absence within the last two years.
- A short Supporting Statement of not more than two A4 sized pages explaining why this appointment interests you and how you meet the criteria as detailed in the candidate profile.

- Diversity Monitoring Forms for completion at Appendix B, including a Guaranteed Interview Scheme if applicable, Appendix C.

Overview of the Process

Russell Reynolds Associates will acknowledge your application and advise you of the outcome of the shortlist meeting.

Applications will be reviewed by the panel to select those demonstrating the best fit with the post and the criteria set out in the person specification.

Depending on the number of applications received there may be a second stage to the shortlist process.

If you are shortlisted, you will be provided with full details of the next stages of the selection and assessment process. This may include other forms of assessment prior to the final interview.

You will also have the opportunity to meet with the recruiting line manager prior to the final selection panel interview to learn more about the role and the organisation. Further details will be provided if you progress to this stage of the selection process.

The selection panel will be chaired by the Civil Service Commissioner, Sarah Laessig and will include:

- Jon Thompson, Chief Executive, HMRC
- Mervyn Walker, Non-Executive Director, HMRC
- Patsy Wilkinson, Second Permanent Secretary, Home Office

Where possible Russell Reynolds Associates will provide feedback. However, depending on the volume of applications it may not always be possible to provide individual feedback to all candidates.

Assessments

If you are invited for interview you will be asked to undergo an assessment designed to identify your key behavioural strengths as well as any associated areas for development. This is to support the selection panel's decision making. You may also be tested on numeracy and literacy skills.

The assessment lasts approximately two hours and consists of a number of personality questionnaires and a subsequent discussion with an assessor. You will need to be flexible about setting aside time in your diary to do this. Those undertaking the assessment will be provided with full details beforehand. The assessment does not lead to a pass or fail decision; rather, it is intended to highlight areas of strength and possible concerns which the panel can probe at interview.

The assessment explores applicant career motivations, as well as levels of resilience, strengths in building relationships and how influential they are, how you lead and manage, how you manage change and complexity as well as understanding your key values, attitudes and behaviours.

If you have been assessed previously and apply for another SCS post at the same payband within a two year period, it is our policy to reuse the original report.

Staff Engagement Exercise

Shortlisted candidates will also participate in a Staff Engagement Exercise. This will involve meeting with a small group of staff from HMRC to discuss your approach to leadership and engagement in relation to the role. Further information on this will be given to those candidates invited to interview.

Arrangements for interview

The final interview will be held at 100 Parliament Street, London, SW1A 2BQ. You will be advised of the format in advance. If you are required to prepare in advance a presentation for the final interview, you will normally be given at least one week's notice of the subject.

Expenses incurred by candidates during the recruitment process will not be reimbursed by the Department except in exceptional circumstances and only when agreed with the Department in advance.

Reserve Lists

If we receive applications from more suitable candidates than we have vacancies for at this time, we may hold suitable applicants on a reserve list for 12 months, and future vacancies in the Civil Service requiring the same skills and experience could be offered to candidates on the reserve list without a new competition.

Alternative Formats

If you wish to receive a hard copy of the information, or in an alternative format e.g. Audio, Braille or large font then please contact: andrew.faulkner1@csresourcing.gsi.gov.uk

If you cannot apply online, please post applications to:

Civil Service Commission's Recruitment Principles

Selection for appointment to the Civil Service is on merit, on the basis of fair and open competition, as outlined in the Civil Service Commission's Recruitment Principles.

The Civil Service Commission has two primary functions:

- Providing assurance that selection for appointment to the Civil Service is on merit on the basis of fair and open competition. For the most senior posts in the Civil Service, the Commission discharges its responsibilities directly by overseeing the recruitment process and by a Commissioner chairing the selection panel.
- Hearing and determining appeals made by Civil Servants under the Civil Service Code which sets out the Civil Service values – Honesty, Integrity, Impartiality and Objectivity – and forms part of the relationship between civil servants and their employer.

More detailed information can be found at the Civil Service Commission website <http://civilservicecommission.independent.gov.uk>

Complaints

If you feel your application has not been treated in accordance with the Recruitment Principles, and you wish to make a complaint, you should contact Steve Dobson at stephen.dobson@hmrc.gsi.gov.uk in the first instance.

If you are not satisfied with the response you receive, you can contact the Civil Service Commission at: <http://civilservicecommission.independent.gov.uk/civil-service-recruitment/complaints/>
