

RUSSELL REYNOLDS ASSOCIATES

Leadership, Succession and Search

Russell Reynolds Associates, through the work of Jana Rich from our San Francisco office, will be supporting as a platform partner Lean In, an online platform that offers women the information and system of support they need to pursue their ambitions.

Sparked by Facebook's CEO, Sheryl Sandberg's book "Lean In: Women, Work and the Will to Lead," LeanIn.Org consists of three integrated programs. 1) The "Lean In Community" which brings women and men together to share stories and have daily conversations around topics that will help them achieve their goals. 2) "Lean In Education" that offers access to free online lectures, produced in collaboration with the Clayman Institute for Gender Studies at Stanford University, on topics including creating successful teams, combating gender bias, negotiating and advocating for your ideas. 3) "Lean In Circles" which are small groups that meet monthly to learn together and share experiences in an atmosphere of confidentiality and trust.

"At Russell Reynolds Associates, we support women 'leaning in' to their ambitions," says Jana Rich, Global Co-Leader of the Digital Transformation Practice at Russell Reynolds Associates. "We are proud that nearly one third of the executives we recruit onto leadership teams and boards are women."

Click here to read the entire press release on Business Wire.